FreeWillWave is open: a worldwide social experiment about freedom has begun

Brussels, June 26, 2026 — FreeWillWave — the worldwide social experiment that makes visible the humans who choose freedom for themselves and respect the same freedom in others — has been open since June 21, 2026 on freewillwave.com. Since then, real participants from several countries have already joined: each signs one Declaration, receives a permanent Free Human number in order of arrival, and appears in a worldwide progression that can be followed in real time. The next step is the first monthly Fibonacci Wave, on August 1, 2026 at 11:23 UTC.

Joining takes one conscious gesture: read and sign the Declaration, confirm your email, and receive a unique, permanent Free Human number, assigned in order of arrival. It is never chosen, transferred or reassigned — it marks the moment that person entered the story of the Wave.

The experience begins after joining. Every Free Human can watch the group grow on the live Wave, send a symbolic gesture of energy that lights a point on the world map, follow the project's Story, and help it move forward by inviting others or creating verified backlinks. The public pages show real figures — what real humans have actually chosen and done, not forecasts.

“I did not create FreeWillWave to tell people what to think. I created a place where those who choose freedom and respect can discover how many they are.”

Serge Brocteur, founder of FreeWillWave (Belgium)

About FreeWillWave

FreeWillWave brings together humans around one principle: personal freedom and equal respect for the freedom of others. Participants sign a Declaration, receive a permanent Free Human number and join a live worldwide group whose growth, energy and Story can be followed in real time. The site has been open since June 21, 2026, with real participants already present in several countries; the first monthly Fibonacci Wave begins on August 1, 2026 at 11:23 UTC. Members can help the project grow through invitations, backlinks, the Biathlon, the monthly Fibonacci relay or voluntary support — and may also simply remain present and watch.
